Eco Friendly Party Decorations - For a Stunning Event, Minus the Waste!

Decorations that are also eco-friendly

- Fabric bunting is durable, reusable and stunning to look at
- Fabric table cloths - purchase in a colour, such as white, that can be used at a number of different events/occasions
- Herbs are great for creating hanging décor and/or natural fragrance (hang them to dry in a visible place to add life and aroma to a room)
- Dried herbs can be used to make wreaths. Use a bit of string and hang them across your venue.
- Seasonal fruit and vegetables make great décor. One example is pumpkins, squashes and gourds - they can be displayed across your venue and, once the event is over, you can either keep them as décor or use the edible ones in a meal!
- Food as serving dishes - rosemary skewers for kebabs on a BBQ, a ring of red capsicum as an egg ring, guacamole inside a halved avocado shell and fresh fruit salad inside a halved melon, honeydew or pineapple
- Hire or borrow décor - ask friends and family if they have one/some of the items you're after or consider hiring from your local event business
- Mason jars. They are great to repurpose! From lighting a room with candles or using them as a vase for flowers, to eco-friendly drink holders, there are so many uses.
- Created in your very own backyard, all you need to make leaf confetti is a hole punch and, you guessed it, leaves!

- Flowers - with so many colours to choose from, you can't go wrong (simply create bunches using your theme palette and you have instant, beautiful décor)
- Plants are a fantastic eco-décor option. They're not only available in a range of types and sizes, but will continue to add colour to your household for many years to come! Perfect for use indoors and outdoors, clustered in corners, used as favours, placed in the centre of a table or even hung from the wall/ceiling
- Second-hand items. Garage sales, op shops and antique stores are all great places to pick up a bargain and/or unique décor items that will fit with your event theme perfectly!
