7 Hen Party Themes Based on Fairytales & How to Pull Them Off!

Beauty & the Beast Party Checklist:

Outfit:

- Dress your hen as Belle (in her ballgown if you want to go all out!)
- Ask guest to dress as the remaining characters

Activities:

- Host a high tea (featuring Mrs. Potts and little Chip!)
- Make your own version of Lumiere at a candle making class
- Make a take-home Mrs Potts at a teapot workshop
- Host a flower crown workshop (using red roses)
- Go for a horse ride through an enchanted forest

Games:

- View the article (by clicking here) for Beauty and the Beast inspired hen party games and instructions.

Setting the Scene:

- Decorate with roses, antique mirrors, crystal goblets and brass candlesticks (antique shops, garage sales and op shops will be your best friend when looking for products!)
- Display a single red rose in a glass dome
- Gift guests actual red roses, chocolates shaped like roses and/or beautiful handheld mirrors
- Want to go all out? Host your event in an actual castle! Serch Air B&B for some great options.

Cinderella Party Checklist:

Outfit:

- Make your hen stand out in a Cinderella style ballgown
- Have guests arrive as characters from Cinderella OR in their own ball gowns (pick an era, such as 80s, for added fun)

Activities:

- Have a makeover by your very own Fairy Godmother (a.k.a. the local, amazing, makeup artist!)
- Take part in a ballroom dance class
- Have waiters (topless?!) serving d'oeuvres

Games:

- View the article (by clicking here) for Cinderella inspired hen party games and instructions.

Setting the Scene:

- Decorate with blue and white flowers, chandeliers and fairy lights.
- Add adorable animal accents (such as bird stencils on food labels and invitations)
- Gift your guests pieces of jewellery, chocolates wrapped in blue foil, or even gorgeous tiaras/headbands that can be worn at other special events
- Go all out by hosting the event in an actual ballroom and organise a horse-drawn carriage for transport

Frozen Party Checklist:

Outfit:

- Dress your beautiful bride-to-be in an Elsa inspired dress
- Ask guests to arrive dressed as remaining characters

Activities:

- Add some adventure to the day with snowboarding, skiing or ice-skating
- Check out a local ice-bar and enjoy a bevvie and chat
- Take part in a cocktail making workshop, creating delicious blue drinks
- Make an edible Olaf with an ice-cream/gelato making class
- Take in some spells with a magic show
- Learn some magic yourself with a magic class

Games:

- View the article (by clicking here) for Frozen inspired hen party games and instructions.

Setting the Scene:

- Decorate with a mix of blues and whites, fairy lights, branches painted white, snowflakes and crystal glasses
- Serve chilled drinks and set up a sundae bar
- Gift guests snowflake cookies, white and blue lollies, or vouchers to the local ice-creamery!
- Go all out with a mini snow trip

The Little Mermaid Party Checklist:

Outfit:

- Dress your hen in a stunning Ariel outfit
- Ask other guests to come as other characters

Activities:

- Have a meal prepared by a chef and learn how strange objects such as forks are used
- Hit up a recording studio and share that beautiful voice!
- Do a mermaiding class (i.e. learn to swim like a mermaid)
- Enjoy some water related sports (such as stand-up paddle boarding, surfing, etc.) and then relax on the beach
- Digging into some fish and chips (sorry Flounder!)
- Host a pool party

Games:

- View the article (by clicking here) for The Little Mermaid inspired hen party games and instructions.

Setting the Scene:

- Decorate with blues, mint/jade greens and white with rustic accents. Incorporate shells and pops of colour, use fairy lights, and add cute names to food/drink (such as 'sea water' on water jugs)
- Gift guests chocolate shells, messages in bottles, starfish biscuits, bath salts or even shell candles

Little Red Riding Hood Party Checklist:

Outfit:

- Make your hen the centre of attention by dressing her as a sexy wolf (everyone else is 'Red Riding Hood') or vice versa
- There's also the option of having everyone else arrive as grandmas, whilst your hen is Red Riding Hood

Activities:

- Pack a basket of delicious goodies and walk through the forest, stopping at a stunning location for a picnic
- Take part in a cooking class (bread, cookies?) and fill your baskets with tasty treats

Games:

- View the article (by clicking here) for Little Red Riding Hood inspired hen party games and instructions.

Setting the Scene:

- Decorate with reds, greens and whites with rustic accents
- Mushrooms, greenery, deep red flowers and logs will give your event a magical feel
- Gift guests small baskets filled with delicious baked goods (such as cupcakes, cheese, crackers, scones, etc.)
- Go all out and spend the weekend glamping in a beautiful forest

Snow White Party Checklist:

Outfit:

- Have your hen dressed as Snow White and guests as her Dwarfs
- Don't stick to the typical Dwarfs... make up fun new names such as 'Chuckles', 'Smiley', or even 'Flirty')

Activities:

- Search for treasures as the Dwarfs do via a scavenger hunt
- Turn treasure into jewellery at a workshop
- Organise a makeup lesson where guests can learn how to create a flawless Snow White look

Games:

- View the article (by clicking here) for Snow White inspired hen party games and instructions.

Setting the Scene:

- Decorate with deep red, gold and dark blue colours
- Use flowers mixed with greenery, antique mirrors, brass goblets and candlesticks, and that one poisonous apple!
- Gift guests toffee apples, apple shaped candles, red lipstick or jewellery fitted with red stones
- Go all out by enjoying a getaway in the woods

Fairytale Party Checklist:

Outfit:

- Ask everyone to come dressed as their favourite fairytale character (just work together to avoid double-ups)

Activities:

- Any of the above activities would work perfectly
- Take part in a Disney themed dance class
- Host a Disney themed sleepover (full of the best movies)
- Check out a Disney themed theatre performance (if you're lucky enough to have one touring at the time)

Games:

- View the article (by clicking here) for Fairytale inspired hen party games and instructions.

Setting the Scene:

- Any of the décor mentioned above would work perfectly for this theme
- Go all out by hosting the ultimate Fairytale party in an actual castle
- Or go even bigger and head to Disneyland!
