LETTER FROM THE EDITOR...

WOW! I can't believe I'm penning this letter for our 3rd issue already. Time has absolutely FLOWN by!

Crazy.

And speaking of crazy, this particular word sums up what the past three months has been like for me. Lockdowns, home schooling, severe weather and power outages.

It's safe to say that life has been anything but normal lately.

But through these unusual (and somewhat tough) times, I've also been inspired. Through many a cold night, I've managed to see the beauty in winter and what it has to offer. This, in turn, inspired our feature theme (I mean, just because it's cold doesn't mean your celebration can't be a red hot success!).

So chuck on some trackies, grab your warm drink of choice, snuggle up on the couch, and get ready to plan. Because the contents of this beauty (food & drink recipes, theme inspiration, game ideas, real parties, AND MORE) are going to have you creating an incredible celebration in no time!

Enjoy!

Bec xx

FEATURED THEME: WINTER PARTY

"a stunning, warm & cosy theme that just oozes style and happiness!"

STUNNING WINTER PARTY IDEAS

ARTICLE WRITTEN BY BEC OF 'FOR EVERY HEN'

A stunning, warm and cosy theme that just oozes style and happiness! Perfect for hen parties, bridal showers and kitchen teas alike, the combination of neutral tones, natural textures, fun games and unique activities is sure to impress. For all of the inspiration you'll need to host a successful winter wonderland celebration, read on.

(If you would prefer to read this article online, click here to view it now)

WINTER COLOUR PALETTE

This tip alone is a serious game changer! Pick a colour palette before doing any other planning.

Why? Because once you know the different colours/shades/textures you want to work with, absolutely everything else becomes SO much easier! Whether you're sourcing decorations, selecting food and drinks, choosing outfits... knowing (and sticking to) the theme colours will not only make your job much less stressful, but will also result in a celebration that flows and looks incredible!

We've decided to keep our winter wonderland theme cosy and rustic; using a colour palette filled with creams, whites, browns and greens (alongside gold accents and natural textures such as chunky wool, wood and jute). You can see an example of these colours and textures together above.

Here are some other winter party theme colour examples: blues and white | grey, white and cream | reds, white and greens (with rustic touches) | white and silver | white (with rustic touches) | white party

Hot tip: Pick some base colours (e.g. greys, whites, creams), then incorporate pops of your bride's favourite colour for some added fun (blue, for example)!

WINTER THEMED COSTUMES & OUTFIT IDEAS

Baby it's COLD outside! So why not encourage your guests to rug up in their best winter woollies? Beanies, scarves, mittens, ugg boots, slippers, coats, and even dressing gowns accepted attire - literally my dream dress code!

Alternatively, if you would like your celebration to ooze glamour and charm, opt for themes such as 'glitter', 'little white dress', 'winter themed dresses' or 'winter sparkle'. You could also set a colour block theme using your event palette (for example, everyone come dressed in gold, green or brown - bride dressed in white!).

And finally, if you'd like to give your guests a little more freedom in their wardrobe, why not ask everyone to come in an outfit that resembles 'snow', 'ice', or even the season itself. The range of costumes (from stunning, glittery dresses through to DIY snowflakes and Santa outfits) will be SO entertaining and great for photos!

WINTER THEMED PARTY FOOD

There are a few ways to approach your winter themed food.

First of all: warmth. When I think of the cooler months, I think of delicious meals that make me feel cosy and warm - meals that remind me of my childhood. For example, mini shepherds pies, self-serve butter chicken and rice, pulled pork rolls, pasta meals, lasagne, baked potatoes, or even pizza!

Now reverse that thought and consider all things cold! Think along the lines of sundae bars, ice-cream bars and self serve gelati. For those interested in setting up a station dedicated to these frozen delights, be sure to include a variety of delicious toppings (nuts, honeycomb, chocolate, lollies, sprinkles, fruits). Guests will have an absolute ball personalising their very own treats.

If you want the theme to carry through to your food table, consider serving up an array of appetizers and sweets that pair well with your party colour palette. Using the example from the beginning of this article, serving a range of foods that are cream, white, brown, green and gold is an easy way to tie your edibles to the rest of the celebration. This could include cupcakes decorated with white icing, avocado dip with crackers, cheese and crackers, chocolates, caramel popcorn mixed with plain popcorn, iced donuts, Ferrero Rocher's, mini sandwiches, biscuits, cake pops, mousse, scones, mini quiches and so on.

And finally, stunning labels, signs and/or inventive layouts are a fun way to theme your spread. From cupcakes set up to form the shape of a snowflake, popcorn served in jars decorated as snowmen or little biscuits iced with wintery images, through to simple yet beautiful themed signage ('enjoy some food' or 'treat yourself'); there are many ways to get creative.

Hot tip: If you like bits and pieces from the different options above, there's no reason you can't mix and match! Serve some themed foods alongside dishes in your party colours, and then top it off with a sign at the back of your table. Do what works best for your particular event!

WINTER THEMED COCKTAILS & DRINKS

When the temperature drops, winter themed drinks such as hot chocolate (with a dash of Irish Whisky), butterscotch hot chocolate, warmed eggnog, mulled wine, hot caramel cocktail, or the delicious sticky date martini (sticky date pudding in cocktail form - my mouth waters at the mere thought of it) are your best bets. Snuggled up near the fire, best gals around, warm beverage in hand; it's a dream on those cold winter days!

If you want to zone in on the 'chill' factor, slushies with added punch (i.e. vodka or gin) or chilled drinks in your palette colours (e.g. snow cap cocktail, chocolate martinis, or the amazing toblerone cocktail) are bound to go down a treat!

DECORATE IN STYLE

We love using natural items and textures to help create this beautiful ambience. Indoor plants add stunning greenery, fairy lights add a subtle yet beautiful glow to the room (grab these out of your Christmas box to save yourself some money), fire creates warmth and wintery feels (open fire, fire pit, candles or candlesticks - they all work!), sticks painted white add a frosty feel and pinecones (painted white or left natural) draw the mind to winters gone by.

Burlap or twine work wonders when attached to jars (which can hold the flickering light of a small candle) or vases. Burlap also makes for a beautiful table runner. Wooden pallets can be incorporated into your day to create stylish indoor picnic tables (or outdoor, if the weather permits), complete with comfortable rugs, throws and cushions.

Gold accents will add a bit of elegance to your celebration. Gold rimmed wine glasses, a couple of gold candle holders, gold cutlery, or even some edible gold glitter sprinkled over sweet dishes is bound to impress. Don't overdo it with this colour, though - subtle hints will make the biggest impact!

And finally, make sure your beautiful guests keep warm by providing chunky woollen blankets to wrap around themselves outside, maybe some mittens and beanies too!

PLAY SOME WINTER THEMED GAMES

When it comes to pre-wedding celebrations, there are an abundance of games for you to choose from (for bridal shower game inspiration, click here; for hen party game ideas, click here). But if it's winter themed games for adults you're after, the following tweaks to classic options may be of interest!

CAPTURE THIS

Write down a list of scenarios that remind you of winter (for example, 'Snowball fights', 'Ice Skating', 'Snowboarding', 'Frozen', etc.). At the party, break guests up into small teams and assign one of the scenarios to each of them. It is then their job to create a photo or selfie that relates to that scene within 2 minutes! Click here to view full game instructions.

DO YOU WANT TO BUILD A SNOWMAN?

Split guests into groups (with at least 3 members each) and ask them to create a snow(wo)man bride within 10 minutes using ONLY toilet paper (you can find bamboo and recycled toilet paper here)! This is achieved by dressing one team member by throwing, wrapping, twisting, etc. toilet paper over their body. Once the time is up, have each of the snowmen strut their stuff and have the host pick best frozen fellow!

Alternative: Split guests into teams and hand each of them their own box of random items (for example, cushions, blankets, ribbons, etc.). Ask teams to transform one of their members into a snowman using ONLY the items from their box! When 10 minutes is up, the snowmen put on a show (if they can move!) and the bride/host awards their favourite with a prize!

SCAVENGER HUNT

This is one of my favourite winter themed party games for those heading out and about! Make a list of wintery items that guests have to find and photograph themselves with. For example, drinking a cocktail in an ice bar, holding a box of the bride's favourite icy-poles, eating an ice-cream, next to a snowman they've built out of random items, etc. Have a prize for the team/individual who finds (and photographs) everything on their list first!

ENJOY SOME WINTER THEMED ACTIVITIES

COCKTAIL CLASS WITH A WINTERY TWIST

So much fun to make and incredibly delicious, what's not to love about a cocktail masterclass?! Learn how to create the best of the best winter inspired cocktails at the hands of a pro. Or, request master teachings for your bride-to-be's favourite mix! After you've all worked your magic with a shaker, you can enjoy sipping on your creations by a crackling fire.

HIT THE SLOPES

Whether you go for the day or the weekend, heading to the snow is the ultimate winter activity! Snowball fights, skiing, snowboarding, tobogganing, falling (so much falling!), laughing and keeping warm by a giant open fire. What more could an adventure loving hen want?!

ICE BAR EXPERIENCE

Rather than heading up the mountain, find the chill closer to home. An ice bar experience brings the freezing climate to the city; meaning you can rug up and enjoy some ice-cold fun before stepping outside into what will feel like a warm breeze! Be sure to enjoy some delish cocktails and snap many a photo in this unique environment before leaving!

MAKEOVER

Treat your best friend and her girls to an all-round pamper sesh. But rather than playing it safe, encourage everyone to have a bit of fun and try a bold, new, wintery look!

For example, if you're getting a makeup artist in, perhaps ask that she take inspiration from the cooler months; resulting in stunning winter themed makeup. Similarly, a nail technician may choose to paint gorgeous little snowflakes, create glittery masterpieces or take inspiration from a winter colour palette.

PHOTO BOOTH

Depending on your budget, there are a couple of ways to introduce a snap happy area to your celebration:

Save some cash and DIY it with a beautiful backdrop. Take a look around your venue and find an area that would be suitable. This could be anywhere from a plain wall (wooden or white would be perfect for this theme) through to a stunning outdoor view. If you want to give your background a bit of 'WOW factor', this can be done using streamers (in your theme colours) hanging down from the ceiling, florals, balloon garlands, or even by bringing the outdoors in (think wooden stumps, greenery, etc.).

Simple blackboards and chalk make great props (as they allow guests to write their own messages/speech bubbles which will DEFINITELY get more and more hilarious as the night goes on!). It's also a good idea to write phrases on some of the boards before the party starts ('[Name's] hen's party', 'Party Time', 'Kiss the Miss Goodbye', 'Baby it's COLD Outside!', 'Snow Much Fun', etc.).

If you do want to include actual props, these can be found in most party shops or via Etsy. You could also hit up some op shops and keep a lookout for wintery outfits/costumes that won't cost a fortune. Warm hats, funny glasses, big jackets, giant mittens and more would be great for filling your prop basket with.

For this DIY option, let guests use their own cameras or phones to capture images. One celebration I went to had a selfie stick set up at the perfect height - all we had to do was pop our phone in on timer and voila, instant photobooth!

If the thought of DIYing this activity causes more stress than excitement, actual photobooth companies can be brought in to help. Ranging from booths through to mirrors, there's an option for everyone's style. And most importantly, such businesses can customise the photo strip to suit your celebration (i.e. your hen's name, accompanied by snowflakes, can grace the strip if you wish!).

WINTER EDIBLES - COOKING OR SIMPLY ENJOYING

There are so many incredibly delicious meals associated with the winter months. Warm, filling - perfect when paired with a glass of wine! Why not take advantage of the wonderful foodstuff on offer by either learning how to make it yourself (hello cheeky cooking class!), or by visiting a local winter themed restaurant (open fire a must).

If you'd prefer to stay in for the celebration, there is also the option of hiring a personal chef for the party. They will not only whip up a fabulous restaurant quality meal to be enjoyed around the table at home, but will also let you in on a few little secret when it comes to cooking delectable food!

And finally, if you're feeling a little competitive, you could challenge everyone to a gingerbread decorating contest. Whether they be shaped like little men, snowflakes or simple shapes - ask guests to get those creative juices flowing and turn their bland biscuit base into some sort of masterpiece!

TIPS & IDEAS FOR YOUR CELEBRATION

HOW TO PLAY 'DATE NIGHT'

A fun, easy and useful game that will give your bestie and her husband PLENTY of date night ideas for their first year of marriage (and beyond)!

To play, set up a table with paper, pens and a jar labelled 'Date Jar' (or you can print off one of the 'Date Jar Signs' or 'Date Jar Playing Cards' via our Printable Shop).

Throughout the celebration, guests can then write down their favourite date night ideas and place them in the jar.

Following the celebration, gift the jar to your bride-to-be so that she can make her way through each of the suggestions with her husband in their first year of marriage!

PERSONALISED PARTY TIP

If you have contacts for everyone on the guest list, why not get in touch prior to the celebration and ask them to send through an image of themselves with the bride-to-be? Then, on the special day, you can display each of these pictures around the venue. A sweet touch that will be loved by bride and party goers alike!

Hot tip: These don't have to be displayed around the venue. Rather, have each guest send through an image AND a note for the bride-to-be (e.g. well wishes, memories, recipes for a successful marriage, etc.). Print all of these off and stick them into a beautiful keepsake book (or create a photo book online, if you wish). This can then be presented to your best friend on her special day - cue the happy tears and hugs!

LAUGHTER IS THE BEST MEDICINE: OUR REVIEW OF THE COMIC'S LOUNGE, MELBOURNE

Our night at the Comic's Lounge in Melbourne started with some big decisions... which dish should we order? And more importantly - bubbles, wine or cocktails?

After much discussion, our table was sprinkled with an array of drinks (a mix of all three, for those playing at home!), alongside delicious meals (with portion sizes that satisfied even the hungriest of humans... a.k.a. my husband).

Before long, our stomachs were full, the room was buzzing and the entertainment began.

With a mystery line-up, we had no idea who would be performing that night. The element of surprise adding to the overall fun. And despite not knowing many of the comedians prior to the show, from the moment the MC graced the stage we didn't stop laughing! In fact, Daniel Connell literally brought tears to my eyes with his hilarious routine #newfavecomedian.

Surrounded by a sea of strangers who were genuinely having a great time (and laughing just as hard as we were), the atmosphere at the Comic's Lounge was one of fun, friendliness and happiness. This mood was not only maintained whilst at the venue, but also long after we left.

Overall, we found this to be an incredibly entertaining evening filled with food, drinks, cheeky jokes and talented performers. In other words, an experience that would be perfectly suited to a hen's party!

So whether your best friend is a comedy buff or someone who just loves to have a laugh, it is well worth checking out The Comic's Lounge and all it has to offer. And the best part? If your bride-to-be (or any of her friends) have been before, it really doesn't matter – the line-up changes constantly so each visit is unique!

THE COMIC'S LOUNGE: GOOD TO KNOW

DIFFERENT SHOW OPTIONS

When booking tickets, you will have the choice between individual performers or mystery acts (where the line-up is completely unknown to attendees before the night).

We personally love the idea of both!

A mystery line-up has the element of surprise; which only adds to the excitement of your celebration. Such performances have introduced me to comedians I've not heard of beforehand - comedians that I would now see live in their own shows (because they were THAT good!).

On the flip side, if your best friend's favourite funny man/woman happens to be in town around the time of her wedding, securing seats to their show is a fail-proof way to ensure your bestie has an amazing night.

SEATS ARE ALLOCATED AS YOU ARRIVE

Want to be as close to the action as possible? We recommend getting there early! The Comic's Lounge operates on a first come, first serve basis - meaning seats are filled from front to back as people arrive.

An added benefit to an early arrival? This provides time for dinner, drinks and pre-show chats - the perfect way to get the party started!

YOU WON'T GO HUNGRY

Dig into some snacks, main meals, desserts and/or drinks whilst at the Comic's Lounge. Friendly wait staff will provide service direct to your table before and during the show. You can also grab a cheeky drink from the bar whenever you feel a bit parched!

YEAR-ROUND LAUGHTER

Whilst the Melbourne Comedy Festival only fills a month or so in the calendar, the Comic's Lounge brings the giggles all year round. Meaning whether your best friend is getting hitched in Summer, Autumn, Winter or Spring; a hilarious night out still awaits you and your crew!

THIS IS AN 18+ VENUE

All guests must be 18 years of age or over.

"an incredibly fun night out... all under the one roof!"

HOW TO BOOK THIS EXPERIENCE

Featuring the best local and international comedians, dining options and a bar, The Comic's Lounge offers an incredibly fun night out... all under the one roof! DELICIOUS APPETIZER IDEAS

CHICKEN ROLLED TACOS

RECIPE & IMAGE PROVIDED BY: M.A. KITCHEN

If you're after an appetizer that will fill stomachs AND look amazing on the plate, this Chicken Rolled Taco recipe is for you (my mouth literally starts watering just LOOKING at them!).

Filled with shredded chicken, fried and then served with Mexican toppings, these rolled tacos (flautas) are guaranteed to go down a treat. And whilst this recipe calls for a chicken filling, everything from meat and fish right through to potatoes, mushrooms and vegetables can be used if desired.

EASY MINI QUICHES

RECIPE & IMAGE PROVIDED BY: COUPLE IN THE KITCHEN

How good are quiches? Easy to whip up, universally loved and endless flavour combinations; they're a staple at celebrations for a reason! And in bite-sized servings, they truly are one of the best simple bridal shower food ideas around. Pair with 'yoghurt parfaits, bagels and lox, fresh fruit, and of course mimosas', as the team at 'Couple in the Kitchen' do, for extra celebratory feels.

EASY CARAMEL POPCORN

RECIPE & IMAGE PROVIDED BY: A TABLE FULL OF JOY

With a few simple ingredients, you'll soon be enjoying the sweet, buttery and crunchy taste of caramel corn! Homemade, easy to make and delicious, aside from the obvious (hen do/wedding shower food), it also makes for a great favour, prize or gift (simply fill a few jars to the brim with this golden goodness, seal and hand out when needed!).

INSANELY COOL COCKTAIL RECIPES

Ah cocktails! I really do love them. Sweet, fun, colourful, delicious; the mere thought of sipping on a cold, mixed beverage brings back memories of summer parties, gorgeous dinners, fancy balls and special occasions.

Whether you're planning a sophisticated soiree or a backyard bash, this incredible list of hen party cocktails (and mocktails) is your secret weapon to a drink station that EVERYONE will want a piece of!

GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR COCKTAILS

DIY OR PROFESSIONALLY MIXED?

DIY cocktail mixing stations can be a fun and interactive way for guests to quench their thirst. To set up, place recipes, spirits, mixers and garnishes on a table. Those in need of a refreshment can then help themselves, letting their creativity run wild! Alternatively, professional bar staff can be brought in to work their magic (they may even teach you a few cheeky mixing tricks whilst they're at it).

Note: Cocktail mixing can be a great hen party activity. Whether it's DIY (most delicious cocktail, as awarded by the bride, wins) or a mixology class with a professional - everyone is bound to enjoy making and, more importantly, downing their wicked creations!

THEME IT

Have a theme for your celebration? Why not serve a cocktail (or two) that fit in seamlessly with the look/feel you're going for? For example, if your theme is based on particular colours, such as blue, you might decide to offer blue lagoon cocktails. A pink event might feature Pink Lady cocktails. On the other hand, a James Bond themed celebration would suit martinis (shaken, not stirred!); and a Halloween themed Hens Party is best paired with more horrifying options (such as Witches Brew or Midnight Fog). A tropical celebration pina coladas, and a winter soiree some mulled wine.

MAKE IT PERSONAL

Rather than serving a range of different drinks, why not select one or two 'signature' cocktails for the affair.

For example, serve your best friend's favourite cocktail - the one she always goes for on a night out! This simple touch will show just how well you know the bride-to-be and just how much you want to make the day special for her.

The other option is creating a cocktail especially for the event itself. Give it a name and serve it all night long -just be sure to taste test prior to the big day (you want this to be a memorable refreshment... but for the right reasons!).

MALFY GIN SOUR

RECIPE & IMAGES PROVIDED BY: 'VESPER BISTRO & BAR'

Hen's parties are all about gathering your best friends and family for a celebration of romantic love, along with the sweet and sour moments of life... just like the Malfy Gin Sour!

INGREDIENTS (MAKES 2)

45ml Malfy Sicilian blood orange gin

30ml Egg white

15ml Lime juice

5ml Muscovado syrup

Garnish: orange peel

METHOD

Combine ingredients in a shaker (can be dry shaken or wet shaken).

Double strain into a coupe or Nick&Nora glass.

Garnish with an orange peel or with a few drops of orange bitter.

The blood orange gin adds a touch of sweetness whilst simultaneously letting the aromatic gin botanicals shine through. Natural sweetness can be counterbalanced by a touch of fresh lemon juice.

EASY DOES IT

RECIPE & IMAGE PROVIDED BY: 'HONEYSUCKLE DISTILLERY'

If reading through these cocktail recipes has you feeling a bit overwhelmed, the team at Honeysuckle Distillery have you covered!

Starting with a delicious, pre-mixed base - their bevvies can be enjoyed as is OR enhanced with one or two simple steps; making them a hassle free way to celebrate in style! See the next page for Honeysuckle Distillery's favourite flavour enhancing tips.

PARADISE GIN SPRITZ

The Paradise Gin Spritz combines the powerful sweet-sour flavour of blood orange with warming cinnamon to create a drink you won't want to put down. The flavours are twisted with gin and soda for a refreshing experience.

To bring out the blood orange, simply add a slice of citrus to your glass. If you're more swayed by the cinnamon, briefly flame a stick of cinnamon bark to release the flavour and nestle in your drink.

SPLENDID GIN CITRUS

There's nothing quite like yuzu - an exotic fruit which is much sought-after by those in the know. This drink is an adventure waiting to be explored.

Slice up some fresh citrus fruits and gently squeeze over ice in a tall glass. For an added effect, cut one more slice and create a small slit from one edge to the centre to sit on the glass rim.

For an even easier option, just serve over ice with a slice of ginger to spice up the yuzu.

TROPICAL VODKA CRUSH

Mango and coconut are a match made in paradise, so it made perfect sense for us to use this as a base for our Tropical Vodka Crush Spritz. We have blended these two lovebirds with vodka, soda and natural flavours to create an unforgettable drink.

To enhance the mango flavour, drizzle in a dash of mango puree and compliment it with a slice of lime. Alternatively, a scoop of passionfruit is always a delight, or turn things up a notch with a dash of rum.

ROSE LEMONADE MOCKTAIL

RECIPE & IMAGE PROVIDED BY: NAT OF 'THE MINDFUL MOCKTAIL'

If it's a mocktail you're after, The Mindful Mocktail's Rose Lemonade is bound to impress! Easy and fast to make, this pretty drink is perfect for a crowd (just increase the quantities below); and with its pink colouring looks absolutely stunning in a pitcher (making it the perfect choice for hen parties and bridal showers alike!).

INGREDIENTS (MAKES 2)

100 ml water
1/2 tbsp Stevia (or your choice of sweetener)
1/3 cup edible dried rose petals
6 tbsp freshly squeezed lemon juice
Sparkling water

METHOD

Add water and sweetener to a small saucepan and dissolve over medium-high heat. If the water steams that's ok, just don't let it boil.

Turn heat to low, add rose petals and stir. Leave on low stirring occasionally until the colours fade from the petals – it will only take a few minutes. Strain and cool. This is your rose syrup.

Now place 2 tablespoons rose syrup and 3 tablespoons lemon juice into each glass. Add ice if you wish, and top with sparkling water. Adjust sweetness by adding a little more Stevia if desired.

Happy shopping!

EXCITING ANNOUNCEMENT!

You've asked, and we've listened! We've had many wonderful bridesmaids express how hard it is to track down group accommodation, to find what's on in their local city (that is suited to pre-wedding celebrations), to find vendors who provide the product/service they're looking for, etc.

This is why we are so excited to announce that there is a NEW section of For Every hen dedicated to ALL of this (i.e. vendors, venues, upcoming events) and more!

To make this part of your event planning as easy as possible, we have collated all of the info we have in one place. Meaning with the click of a button you can now find what's on (and who's around) for hen parties, bridal showers and kitchen teas in your selected state. You will find all of these new pages on the main menu of our website.

These pages will be updated as new information comes to hand. If you have any tips for us (whether it be venues that went out of their way to make your day incredible, group accommodation that was LOVED by all, vendors who were amazing at their job and left you wanting more, etc.) please do get in touch and we'll add them to the list for everyone to enjoy!
