a Relaxed Party

Relaxed Hens Party Ideas

(FOR AN EPIC LAID-BACK EVENT!)

ARTICLE WRITTEN BY BEC OF 'FOR EVERY HEN'

Most imagine a hen party to be quite wild. But what if this doesn't resonate with your bride-to-be? How do you make her event exciting, fun and memorable without the rowdiness? From low-key activities to special touches; these relaxed hens party ideas will help you plan the chilled celebration of her dreams!

THE OUTFITS

In keeping with your relaxed affair, you may choose to forgo a theme altogether (just ask guests to come in their favourite party outfit).

But for those who want to add a touch of togetherness, a broad theme could be just the right addition to your day. Some options include:

- A particular style (boho or festival, for instance)
- A colour palette (e.g. pastels)
- A particular dress code (such as smart casual)

And if you're after an easy way to make your bride-to-be stand out, you can either request that no guest wear white (meaning your bestie can don her best white outfit) or you can go with a colour block party.

What is a colour block party? It's when all of your guests wear one colour (pink, for example), whilst the bride comes in another (white, bright patterns, or even her favourite colour!).

THE FOOD

Just because you're hosting a relaxed party doesn't mean you can't have fun with the food! Here are some of our favourite ways to cater a chilled event:

GIANT GRAZING TABLE

These look absolutely amazing (perfect for special occasions), provide guests with an array of foods (meaning there's a little something for everyone to dig into), and add instant WOW factor to your day. Click here to learn how to DIY an amazing spread.

GOURMET BBQ

Delicious veggie burgers, the finest burger patties, steak, gourmet sausages, vegetables, seafood and/or even some fruits will take your humble BBQ up a notch. Pair with a salad bar so that guests can create mouth-watering hamburgers, veggie burgers, vegetable wraps or even salad rolls.

FOOD STATION

Like grazing tables, food stations look the part! Serve up your bride's favourite dishes DIY style; allowing guests to create meals to their taste. Baked potatoes, tortillas and bruschetta are some options – click here to view more.

EASY APPETIZERS

Keep it simple with mini quiches, sandwiches, wraps sliced into rounds and any other flavoursome foods that won't require a lot of prep. Click here to view a list of handy recipes.

UP YOUR FOOD GAME

For those who want to add a little extra pizzazz to their food table, there's no reason you can't call in the professionals.

Whether it be a catering company (leaving you to enjoy the event), or a private chef (who will treat your guests to restaurant quality food at your location), there are many ways to make the day special.

PROFESSIONAL FOODIE OPTIONS:

- Bottomless brunch
- Catered picnic (including picnic set up)
- Caterers
- Local restaurant for lunch or dinner. Enjoy a meal before heading to your venue for the remainder of the celebration
- Personal chef (who can cook a delicious, restaurant quality meal at your home or accommodation)
- Surprise dining
- Topless waiters (to help with serving)

THE DRINKS

Similar to food, there are a variety of options when it comes to refreshments:

DRINK STATIONS

Featuring your hen's favourite bevies, punch or even DIY cocktails.

HIRED BARTENDER

The best kind make wonderful drinks for your party AND are more than happy to teach you a trick or two in the cocktail department.

SELF-SERVE

Ice buckets filled with champagne, wine, cider and any other options you wish to provide.

THE ACTIVITIES

When you're trying to keep things low-key, it can be hard to come up with suitable activities. Here are some of our favourite relaxed hen party ideas that will bring just the right vibe to your event:

FOODIE FUN

Let's be honest, food is always a winner (and oh so important at any occasion). So why not incorporate the good stuff in a unique way?

Some hens may love learning how to create certain dishes or desserts (e.g. pasta or chocolate making lessons), whilst others may enjoy a unique dining experience (such as surprise dinners or blindfolded meals).

As mentioned earlier, a lovely restaurant meal (either at an actual venue; or with the help of a private chef at your home/accommodation) is a wonderful way to fill those stomachs. As is a high tea or bottomless brunch.

For those who want to add some beverages to the mix, a cocktail making class is a great way to learn new tricks whilst enjoying refreshments. A DIY wine tasting event gives you the opportunity to try new flavours whilst simultaneously sharing old favourites.

TREAT YOURSELVES

Goes without saying, but one of the most relaxing activities around involves a bit of pampering.

Whether you decide to DIY it with some homemade facials, luxurious foot spas and delectable treats, or call in the professionals, this is one sure-fire way to relieve stress and enjoy the moment.

Professional pamper activities include:

- Beauty bar experience (hair & makeup)
- Massage therapy
- Hair styling
- Facials
- Manicures and Pedicures
- Booking in at your bride's favourite spa/beauty parlour
- Vintage hair and/or makeup lessons

CHILLED HEN WEEKENDS

Treat your best friend to a relaxing weekend of fun and laughs with her best gals.

From glamping to accommodation; set up in one of her favourite locations and let the good times roll.

Have a bit of land? Perhaps you could hire some glamping tents and enjoy a luxurious night of camping adventures there instead.

SINGING STARS

Grab yourself some microphones and get those voice boxes ready; because karaoke is about to take over your party! Sing along to your best friend's favourite hits whilst dancing the night away.

GET A LITTLE BIT NAUGHTY

An art class like no other – uncontrollable giggles and hilarious masterpieces will be just some of many great memories created when participating in a life drawing session.

Topless waiters are also guaranteed to add some fun to your celebration; instantly adding a touch of naughtiness to your low-key soiree. These wonderful men will help serve your food/beverages (meaning less for hosts to worry about). It's a win/win for everyone!

MOVIE NIGHT

Set up a big TV or projector screen (either indoors or outdoors) and host your very own movie night – complete with popcorn, choc tops, bubbles and gourmet appetizers (hello, Gold Class at home!).

Want to take your movie game up a level? Why not incorporate your screening with a night away. Book accommodation and set up there instead.

Note: you may like to take in a movie at a unique theatre nearby. The smaller businesses have so much character; giving your event a unique twist.

POOL PARTY

Does one of your bridesmaids own a house with a pool? Or perhaps you were able to snap up some stunning accommodation, waterside?

Prepare some cocktails, chilled tunes, deck chairs and inflatable lounges – because you and your gals will be getting your dose of vitamin d (sun guys... I'm talking about the sun) whilst enjoying the cooling effects of H2O!

GET CREATIVE

If your bestie has an artistic streak, you may like to include a fun yet relaxed activity that gets those creative juices flowing! From hiring a caricature artist to making beautiful flower crowns; there are arty party options for everyone.

FUN & RELAXING ART ACTIVITIES:

- Clay crafts
- Creative workshops (such as terrarium making)
- Flower crown making
- Flower arrangements
- Hire a caricature artist (who will create cartoon drawings of each guest - an activity and awesome favour in one!)
- Life drawing classes (doesn't have to be a naked man - this could be sketching bowls of fruit, painting beautiful blooms or even attempting to draw your bride-to-be!)
- Make your own perfume
- Paint and sip workshop

THE GAMES

It's not uncommon for hens requesting relaxed celebrations to also ask for no games. Absolutely listen to their wishes – it's their special day and you want them to enjoy every moment!

That being said, if your bride-to-be is happy to play a few, we suggest making them low-key and optional. Some of our favourites include:

SNAP THAT

On a blackboard, provide party-goers with a list of different photos to snap throughout the day. These might include 'a selfie with the bride-to-be', 'a photo of someone laughing' and 'a group photo'. Ask everyone to upload their images to a private Facebook group (or similar) after the event so that you can all look back on the fun (and your hen can treasure these special moments forever).

DATE NIGHT

★Click here for beautiful, printable date night cards★

On a piece of paper, guests can write down date ideas for their hen and her soon-to-be husband. These could range from dinner and a movie to a relaxing day at the spa.

After the party, collect the ideas and place them in a scrapbook, box or bind to create a small booklet. This can be gifted to your best friend and her partner, who can enjoy making their way through the different ideas during their first year of marriage and beyond!

This game can also be played as 'Bucket List'; meaning instead of date ideas, guests write down activities and challenges for the couple. Find full bucket list game instructions by clicking here.

TRICK OR TREAT?!

Place a blackboard or sign on a table near the venue entrance that says 'Trick or Treat?'. In front of this sign have enough drinks for one per guest attending.

As people start to arrive, ask them to pick a beverage. The twist being that some are treats (e.g. cocktails, straight shots, etc.) and some are tricks (water, juice, etc!).

LAWN/PARTY GAMES

Other fun options that suit a laid-back event include prosecco pong, limbo, giant jenga, bocce and any other lawn games your bride-to-be may enjoy.

OTHER GAME IDEAS

For a huge range of game ideas (over 40 different options!), click here.

THE LITTLE THINGS (THAT MAKE A BIG DIFFERENCE)

No matter what chilled out hen do ideas you go with, the most important thing you can do is make the day special for your best friend. Make her feel loved and considered; so that when she looks back she is full of happiness and gratitude.

How do you do this, you may ask?

Put your hen's favourite food and drink on the menu, include fun nods to inside jokes, decorate in her favourite colours, incorporate her favourite flowers, display photo memories, organise activities she's always wanted to try – the list goes on. For personalised party inspiration, click here.

WE HOPE YOUR BESTIE LOVES
THESE CHILLED
HEN DO IDEAS AS MUCH AS WE DO!

The most frequent comment from bridesmaids planning a relaxed celebration is that they're worried it won't be enough; that the event will be just like any other catch up with friends.

But by combining personalised touches, appetizing food, delicious drinks, good company and perhaps a game and/or activity you'll soon have a wonderful, memorable and incredibly fun occasion that your bride-to-be will adore!

AWESOME IDEAS FOR YOUR

Celebration

Real Parties

THESE HENS GOT CREATIVE WITH NAUGHTY ADULT SCULPTURES!

In charge of planning her best friend's hen-do, Siena was on the lookout for a fun, hassle-free group activity to do from their regional accommodation in Broke, Hunter Valley NSW. With strict instructions for no strippers or anything 'tacky', she searched high and low for the perfect option when an idea suddenly sprung to mind.

"[I had] the idea to create naughty sculptures that could be transported easily and painted from any location", she said.

"It really was a fantastic group activity that the group and bride loved. Over nibbles and drinks, we had a lot of laughs throughout this artistic experience!"

Because they were such a (big) hit, Siena has taken her creations to Etsy (The Phallus Picasso) where other hens can get in on the fun. You can grab these cheeky sculptures for your event by clicking here.

Time Capsule Surprise

(THE MOST SPECIAL KEEPSAKE)

ARTICLE WRITTEN BY BEC OF 'FOR EVERY HEN'

Help your best friend and her husband celebrate big milestones in marriage (first anniversary, five year anniversary, ten years – it's your choice!) with a sweet box of goodies prepared by family and friends. It will be a truly unique game for her hen party/bridal shower, and a wonderful surprise in years to come. Continue reading to learn how to play.

HOW TO PLAY 'TIME CAPSULE'

YOU WILL NEED:

Bits and pieces to fill the box (find out more below). These can be brought to the party by guests and/or created at the celebration.

PREPARATION:

Before the big day, put the call-out to party goers asking them to bring along a little something for your hen's time capsule. Explain that this special keepsake will be sealed after the party and gifted to the bride-to-be – ready to be opened on a designated date (the couple's first wedding anniversary, for example).

Guests may choose to wrap their gift if they want to keep it a surprise from everyone (including the host!).

Alongside these goodies, you may also like to organise a few written activities (that can be completed at the celebration and popped in the box). Date Ideas and Favourite Memories are just two of many options that are perfect for this. For more choices, you can view our list of hen party games by clicking here.

And finally, a polaroid camera is a wonderful way to add special moments from the actual celebration. Happy snaps can be taken throughout the event, and placed straight into the time capsule. Take a few sneaky snaps that your bride-to-be doesn't get to see – they will make for a beautiful surprise when she opens the box down the track.

WHAT GUESTS CAN BRING TO PUT IN THE TIME CAPSULE:

- Photos of themselves with the bride/groom-to-be. These can be from any point in time (baby, childhood, teenager, etc.). For extra sentimental value, letters can be written on the back of these photos (explaining the story behind them).
- A letter to the couple from the bride's parents/grandparents/siblings/extended family
- A letter to the couple from the groom's parents/grandparents/siblings/extended family
- A letter to the couple from friends
- A favourite recipe (for the couple to cook together)
- Photos of the couple together (that friends/family have captured through the years)
- A copy of the hen party invitation
- A copy of the wedding invitation

WHAT YOU CAN ADD TO THE TIME CAPSULE AT THE CELEBRATION:

- Photos from the day
- Videos from the day (on a USB – added after the event). A video of the setup, funny messages from guests, dancing, etc.
- Written games played on the day (e.g. date night ideas, favourite memories, He Said She Said cards/videos, etc.)

PLAYING 'TIME CAPSULE':

1. Collect any gifts, notes and goodies brought to the celebration by guests and place them aside.
2. Collect written game cards, photographs, etc. at the celebration and place them aside.
3. After the event, put any additional videos/photos from the bridal shower/hen do onto a USB.
4. Add contents to a special box and wrap it up/seal it. You can either gift this to your best friend straight away (with strict instructions that it's not to be opened until the specified date!), or hold onto it.

Tip: If you're happy to wait a little longer, include bits and pieces from their wedding day as well.

When their first wedding anniversary rolls around, deliver a bottle of wine and some gourmet nibbles to the happy couple, along with their time capsule. The bride and groom can then enjoy a special date night where they look back on incredible memories from days gone by!

ALTERNATIVE WAYS TO PLAY:

GET A BIT CHEEKY:

For those who want to get a bit cheeky with the capsule, here are some alternative gift options:

- Love coupons
- Cheeky predictions ('the happy couple will have consummated their marriage at least two times on their wedding night', for example)
- Naughty date ideas (to keep the flame burning in their second year of marriage).
- 18+ games

GET THE GROOM INVOLVED:

Let your hen's other half in on the plan, and ask him to put together a few extra goodies for the time capsule. This could be a letter to his bride-to-be, a bit about their relationship at this point in time, what they want to do in their future, bucket list items, etc.

Not only will these little bits and pieces be an extra special surprise for your hen, but also for the groom. Reading back notes from one of the most magical times in their relationship is sure to bring a tear to their eyes, and remind them of the love they share.

HAVE THE MOST AMAZING TIME
PUTTING
BEAUTIFUL
KEEPSAKE!

This is a game that keeps on giving. A game that gets everyone involved. And a game that will have true meaning for the bride and groom - where they will see how truly loved they are!

If you have any extra ideas for filling the box, we would absolutely love to hear them!

Until then, happy collecting, gifting and memory making - Bec x

Create a Breathtaking Winter Party

(WITHOUT BEING A STYLIST!)

ARTICLE WRITTEN BY SONJA

Baby, it's cold outside... the perfect time to create a magical wintery celebration for your best friend's bridal shower or hen party. There are so many lovely variations to this winter wonderland theme. Soft and romantic, totally glam and glittery, or cosy and warm with loads of gorgeous textures. This article will provide you with all of the tips and inspiration to help you decide!

CREATE YOUR WINTER WONDERLAND INVITATIONS

Before you start styling the bridal shower, you will need to create the invitations; which will set the scene for the styling of the whole event.

Online invitations are great, and there are loads to choose from. However, for an extra special touch, send out a printed invite. It's so nice to receive an invitation in the mail.

If you are creative, why not make the invitations yourself? This will allow you to totally customize and personalise the invite to suit the bride-to-be. For ideas, look online for easy to use templates, or get a little crafty and put those scrapbooking skills into action.

If DIY isn't your thing, use store bought invitations and add embellishments such as a theme related sticker to seal the envelope. It's also fun to include some biodegradable glitter or winter themed paper confetti inside the envelope – think snowflakes of all shapes and sizes!

BE BRAVE WITH YOUR PARTY COLOURS

Typically, a winter wonderland theme would be blue and white, or white and silver, but it doesn't have to be. Be brave and let your imagination run wild!

You can really use any colour scheme. Using the colour or colours from your invitation is a good place to start. And it would be a lovely touch to include the bride-to-be's favourite colour in the overall party scheme. Don't go overboard and make it all matchy-matchy – just keep all of the elements consistent.

HAVE FUN WITH DELECTABLE DESSERTS

A dessert table is a great fun way to incorporate your winter wonderland theme into your bridal shower styling. Buy or make cute cake toppers to add to cupcakes. Buy or bake themed cookies, macarons or whatever sweet treats appeal. There are some amazing cookie decorators on social media, so have a look online for ideas.

It's also nice to ask some of the bride-to-be's family and friends to bake something, especially if they are known for their baking skills. Be sure to tell them of your colour palette so that they can keep to the theme.

For the setup of the actual table, be sure to use a crisp, ironed tablecloth (white always looks nice). Top this with white or plain trays and/or plates, and then add a coloured or patterned paper to line them (this will add a pop of colour to the table and tie in the theme). Add some embellishments such as ribbons to lolly jars, and make up some little name cards for each of your treats (be sure to use the same font as on the invitations).

It looks good to add a bit of height to your dessert table, especially at the back. You could use a shoebox covered in the same paper as on your trays, and then place a tray or jars on top. Alternatively, stack a couple of cake plates to create your own high tea trays. For a touch of sparkle, dig out your metallic Christmas decorations. And don't forget the fairy lights!

KEEP EVERYONE WARM WITH A HOT COCOA BAR

★Etsy has a wonderful range of hot cocoa bar printables, click here to check them out!★

You can't have a winter wonderland bridal shower without a warming hot cocoa bar!

On a large tray, place jars of different hot chocolate powder. Add some cups or mugs and a jug of warm milk – and don't forget the marshmallows. In little jars, have a choice of fun toppings such as chocolate drops, cinnamon, sprinkles, wafers, smarties, and of course whipped cream.

Be sure to add little labels using the same layout that you used for the dessert table. Make up a 'Hot Cocoa Bar' sign and let your guests help themselves.

For those who want to spice up their hot cocoa, you might like to include some Irish whisky, or your choice of wintery spirit. And if hot cocoa isn't your thing at all, why not make a cocktail station? This is sure to warm you up!

CREATE MEMORIES WITH A DIY PHOTOBOOTH

A photobooth is a fun addition to a bridal shower. And the best part is, you don't need to spend a lot of money to pull one off. All you need is a backdrop, a few fun props, and your camera or phone.

A backdrop can be something as simple as a nice wall or a curtain, or you can jazz it up a bit and add a frame covered in flowers, balloons or fabric. Create some fun props for the guests to hold, add some signage and snap away. Be sure to share a #hashtag for everyone to post and share their photos on social media.

If you are crafty, create a cardboard forest by cutting out some cardboard pine trees of different sizes. Painted white or just left kraft coloured, grouped together they will look amazing. Add a string of fairy lights behind them for a little sparkle.

DECORATE YOUR WINTER WONDERLAND TABLE

If you are having a sit down meal, it is lovely to dress the tables. Fresh flowers are always a winner. Add some fabric napkins, or have a look for some pretty paper ones that will suit your theme. Layer plates with a dinner plate topped off with a side plate. Add a name place-card on top, and include a flower or snowflake to top it all off.

Add some candles to the table, and use some of your wintery themed Christmas decorations here too. Think pine cones or small wreaths, faux antlers, holly and greenery, and a string of fairy lights along the length of the table.

Keep it simple and stylish, and stick to your colour palette.

SURPRISE GUESTS WITH WINTER WONDERLAND TREATS

It's so nice to take home a reminder at the end of the event. Why not create a take home hot cocoa kit for each guest? Include a sachet of hot cocoa, some mini marshmallows, a cinnamon stick and some sprinkles. Package it all up in a box or a mason jar; add a snowflake accent and a 'Thank You' tag tied on with string or twine.

ARTICLE WRITTEN BY BEC OF 'FOR EVERY HEN'

Food. It's one of the most important aspects of a celebration - but it can also be one of the most expensive! Here are some of our favourite cost-cutting tips when it comes to your food table:

WHAT SHOULD YOU SERVE?

Offering a variety of food at your event is a great way to ensure that everyone's taste buds are satisfied and stomachs are full. However, it's important not to go overboard.

Serving up too many different types of foods will become quite expensive.

To avoid spending up big, we suggest making a list of options you know guests will enjoy. If you have party-goers with special dietary requirements, ensure this list covers choices for them as well.

Now that you know what you need, it's time to shop.

The beauty of having a set ingredient list/menu is the savings. For instance, in the lead up to your event keep an eye on sales as you may be able to grab items at a cheaper price (this works especially well for anything that can be stored in the cupboard). You may also be able to purchase particular foods in bulk.

GO FOR COST-EFFECTIVE ITEMS

What food will give you the most bang for your buck?

Fried rice, pasta and noodles are great for feeding larger groups when you're on a budget. Likewise, food bars centred around a fairly cheap main ingredient (such as baked potatoes or tacos) are another cost-effective way to feed the hordes.

For a more relaxed celebration, BBQs provide variety whilst being fairly cheap to run. And for those after a fancier soiree, mix up your basic spread by adding a few gourmet options.

MAKE EVERYDAY FOODS LOOK FANCY

And finally, think about your display. After all, a little creativity goes a long way!

For example, rather than a few cheese and crackers thrown on a plate, create a jarcuterie (in other words, individual charcuterie jars – click here for instructions).

These not only make for wonderful appetizers, but also look amazing.

Fruit kebobs with chocolate dipping sauce, perfectly styled bruschetta, wraps sliced into delicious looking rounds and gorgeous grazing platters are also wonderful ways to bring some excitement to your food table (without spending a fortune).

YUMMY PARTY COCKTAIL

3 Easy & Delicious Cocktail Recipes

(PERFECT FOR YOUR NEXT EVENT!)

ARTICLE WRITTEN BY NITESH BHATIA OF 'JUST WINES'

Cocktails are a fantastic way to get hens party festivities to a great start. Serving a special signature cocktail can also be a crowd pleaser when it comes to setting the tone and possibly breaking the ice among revellers that may not have previously met.

Champagne or sparkling white is traditionally associated with all things bride; you can put your own unique stamp on this favourite or go completely off script and serve something completely unexpected and completely delicious (of course, it goes without saying that responsible consumption is the only way to do it in style).

Here are three basic cocktail recipes designed to not only impress, but also to mark the beginning of a time to remember.

B E L L I N I

You can make this Italian cocktail using either Prosecco or the bride's favourite Aussie sparkling wine. In Italy, they would make the nectar by marinating peaches in wine, but since a hen's event requires a lot of work, we've simplified this part for you.

INGREDIENTS

White peach nectar
Prosecco/Sparkling wine

METHOD

Chill glasses

Half fill a champagne flute with peach nectar
Slowly and carefully pour in the bubbly
Stir carefully. Serve immediately.

Recommendation: Tatachilla – Those Who Wander Prosecco, NV King Valley

KING VALLEY, VICTORIA

King Valley in Victoria is a great place to source prosecco, and ideal for a weekend away. It's three hours' drive from Melbourne with plenty of welcoming cellar doors that are heavily influenced by Italian winemaking with a geographical setting similar to the hills in northern Italy. In addition to prosecco, other wines to try while you're in the King Valley are sangiovese, pinot grigio, nebbiolo, dolcetto, arneis and barbera.

THE STAR GAZER

Believe it or not, this combination of chardonnay, rum and sweet juice is a nice, soft, sip-worthy surprise (make sure you serve it with ice).

INGREDIENTS (MAKES 1)

60ml chardonnay

30ml dark rum

Couple of drops of vanilla extract

15ml pineapple juice

Garnish: lime wedge

METHOD

Combine ingredients in a cocktail shaker filled with ice

Shake and strain into a glass

Garnish

Recommendation: Mon Tout Chardonnay, Margaret River

MARGARET RIVER, WESTERN AUSTRALIA

If you're wine touring in Western Australia, Margaret River is a must. The winemaking there has grown over the past few decades to become one of the most respected new world wine regions. In addition to chardonnay, cabernet merlot blend and Shiraz are the wines to indulge in while you're there. The small, boutique wineries there are lovely to visit.

THE ROSE BOUQUET

A rose by any other name would smell as sweet.

INGREDIENTS (MAKES 2)

90ml rosè
45ml gin
20ml dry vermouth
90ml grapefruit juice
1 rosemary sprig

METHOD

Fill lowball glass  $\frac{3}{4}$  full of ice and add the ingredients over the top
Stir, and serve with a grapefruit wedge and rosemary sprig

Recommendation: Bird Dog Rosè, Granite Belt

GRANITE BELT, QUEENSLAND

Yes, you read that right; Queensland has a unique, thriving little wine region three hours southwest of Brisbane. Granted, it's Queensland, but not as you know it (it can get cold enough in winter to snow, but can also get sizzling hot in summer). It produces some of the most inimitable Shiraz, cabernet sauvignon, chardonnay, sauvignon blanc, Verdelho and viognier to be found. There are also plenty of tours, walking trails and foods to explore for a great hen's weekend away.
